

Ascentis Project

connection
space that works

www.connection.uk.com

Ascentis

Project

Opportunity

Ascentis wanted an interactive, hybrid workspace which provided inspiration to their staff. The result was a vibrant and collaborative space which supported flexible, modern working practices whilst retaining a sense of fun and freedom.

The workspace featured a range of different areas, each individually designed to provide spaces which supported collaborative work, more orthodox meeting rooms, as well as multiple breakout zones for relaxation. Opus 4 completed the project which featured multiple pieces of Connection commercial furniture to add to the whimsical feel and aesthetic.

Our Hygge chairs were specified in a magical configuration within a quiet, Harry Potter-themed reading room, otherwise known as Platform 9 ¾. This quirky, hidden area of the office has been designed to provide an area of quiet seclusion away from the hustle and bustle of the rest of the open-plan space. The high-back Hygge chairs were the ideal pieces for the library thanks to their gentle, contoured design hugging the user and providing a feeling of cosiness.

connection
space that works

Ascentis

Project

Solution

Platforms was featured as the centre piece in the main collaboration space in the office. The U-shaped configuration creates a communal, amphitheatre feel in the heart of the space, thus enabling the workforce to work together in a dedicated space which both encourages and supports collaborative working.

Other products featured within the space include the Play media unit, which is placed to break up a breakout area. The multi-purpose unit provides employees with the opportunity to collaborate using the dry-wipe board, whilst the TV on the rear can be used for either relaxation or impromptu presentations. Pear chairs were placed within a wellness room, overseeing the wooded areas through a panoramic window. The deep seat creates a space ideal for relaxation and contemplation, making it a perfect addition to the wellness room.

connection
space that works

Platforms Work Café Seating

Platforms Work Café Seating